

SALUTING APPS'S 12TH MAN

The 12th Man is a term commonly used to describe the fans in the stadium during football games. Football teams allow a maximum of 11 players on the field at one time, thus the term denotes the attempt of a team's fans to help boost their team's morale. Due to the very nature of fans, the mere presence of the 12th Man can have profound impacts on how the team performs. App's 12th Man will be in Chattanooga in earnest. You'll know them when you see them.
